Service Description

ASRC are the largest independent human rights organisation for refugees and people seeking asylum in Australia. The ASRC deliver more services on the ground than any other independent asylum seeker organisation in the country. We offer 30 holistic programs that protect people seeking asylum from persecution and destitution, support well-being and dignity, and empower people to advance their own future. We are proudly owned and run by our community and supported by a network of more than 1300 volunteers and 90 staff in assisting around 3000 people seeking asylum each year.
