Service Description

ReachOut was started in 1996 in direct response to Australia's growing suicide rates. We work with young people and experts to deliver mental health services online. Everything we do is evidence-based and underpinned by evaluation and research. To find out more about the evidence behind ReachOut.com. A few facts about ReachOut Australia: we're a registered not-for-profit we're based in Sydney, but ReachOut is a national service about 40 people work at ReachOut across marketing, organisation support, research, and service delivery. We partner with a lot of other organisations to make sure every young person who visits ReachOut.com finds the help they are looking for.
